Solo Mandolin Portraits
of Eastern Europe

"Radim has come up with some great innovations that seem so natural when you hear them, you almost can't believe that it took so long for someone to discover them. At a time when most mandolinists are only interested in the fiddle tune, swing-jazz or bluegrass traditions, Radim has broken free of the norm and created a unique approach to solo mandolin composition and performance, securing himself a place at the forefront of the mandolin's future."

- Mike Marshall,
Modern Mandolin Quartet
